Cuticura
THE GREAT SKIN CURES
A POSITIVE CURE
For Every Form of Skin and Blood Disease, from Pimples to Scrofula.
I have had the Psoriasis for nine months. About five months ago I applied to a doctor near Boston, who helped it for a time, but unfortunately I had to leave, but continued taking his medicine for nearly three months, but the disease did not leave. I saw Mr. Chapman's letter in the Philadelphia Record, and like you, perfectly described my case. I tried the Cuticura Remedies, using two bottles Resolvent, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap in proportion, and call myself completely cured.
L. F. BAYNARD.
Waterford, N. J.
FOURTEEN TWENTY YEARS
Cured. Not a Sign of Its Reappearance.
Your Cuticura has been a wonderful cure for me more than two years ago. Not a sign of the eczema has reappeared. It cured me of a very bad Eczema which had troubled me for many than twenty years. I shall always speak well of Cuticura, as it has done so much for me.
FRANK C. SWAN, Druggist.
Haverhill, Mass.
BEST FOR ANYTHING.
Have cured your Cuticura Remedies for eighteen months for Tetter, and finally cured it. I am now free from it. Cures do well on scrofulous humors. I can recommend it beyond any remedy I have ever tried for Tetter, Humors, Cuticura. In fact, it is the best medicine I have ever used for anything.
E. S. HORTON.
Myrtle, Mich.
SCROFULOUS SORES.
I had a dozen sores broken out on my body and tried all your advertised cures. Four of, and at last tried your CUTICURA REMEDIES—and I now feel like a new man.

SNEEZE! SNEEZE!

SNEEZE and your head seems ready to fly off, nostrils run now and then a large quantity of excessively offensive mucus, with watery, smarting eyes; sometimes the eyelids are so inflamed as to cause a temporary blindness; at other times the throat is affected with a tickling cough, and the head is filled with pain, and you feel as if you had a cold in the head. This is Catarrh. Catarrh is a Blood disease, and should be treated by a Blood Purifier. Sufferers should use Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh.

DO NOT BE DISCOURAGED
even if you have tried many remedies for your Kidney disease or Liver complaint without success, it is no reason why you should think your disorder incurable. The most intractable cases readily yield to the potent virtues of Kidney-Wort. It is a purely vegetable compound which acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels at the same time and thus cleanses the whole system. Don't wait, but get a package to-day and cure yourself. FMW&w

MONDAY, DEC. 22, 1884.

The Portland Gazette is authority for the report that Rev. Henry Ward Beecher is to succeed James Russell Lowell as Minister to England.

Ex-Senator Chilton estimates that 100,000 Irish Democrats voted for Blaine in New York State and that the contributions of the South to the Democratic campaign fund reached nearly $200,000.

The system of numbering ballots according to the registry number of the voter proved so efficacious in detecting the fraud in Chicago that the plan is being considered favorably elsewhere.

Since Senator Pendleton's name has been mentioned in connection with a Cabinet position some of his party associates think he is ineligible because he only contributed $200 to the Cleveland campaign fund.

It is said that Mr. Randall means to make another active contest for the Speakership of the next House. As the free traders are in the majority, however, Speaker Carlisle will probably be his down's successor.

As a result of Democratic rule, the estimated appropriations in Ohio, will be $1,265,369 68 larger for next year than for the fiscal year just past. The deficiencies this year amount to $415,769.75, against $11,013.25 last year.

John R. McLean, of Ohio, who it is said has gone to Washington to boom himself for a Cabinet office, evidently is not pleased with the prospect, as he does not appear to be in a class humor. He telegraphs his pupil that Mr. Cleveland might well select a clerk from August Belmont's counting room as to put Mr. Bayard in the Cabinet. What a happy family!

Another member of that Cleveland conspiracy has come to grief. Anson B. Bowler, who falsified the returns from Somerville, has just been convicted on eight different counts for pilfering $2,700 in excessive fees from three applicants for pensions. Like Swan, he fled the State, but instead of remaining away he finally came back and gave himself up. It is not at all surprising that a man who would rob the people of their constitutional right of choosing their representatives should be convicted of defrauding the soldiers.

Mr. Watterson is not favorably impressed with the idea of Mr. Blaine's western trip and took the liberty to announce in his paper, the Louisville Courier-Journal, that he will not be a welcome visitor. This action on the part of Mr. Watterson has created considerable excitement and at a recent meeting of the Board of Trade the speaker denounced the editorial as "the malicious vituperation of a disappointed political crank," and a committee was appointed to extend an invitation to Mr. Randall to visit the city. The people of Louisville do not seem to be heavily endowed with the fiery free trade journalist.

The Somerset Reporter says: "The Portland Press has nearly a column on the State Treasurer question. The only point proved is that of locality. It contains a calculation of State offal as being 1860 upon which somebody must have spent every day and nights. In this Somerset county is slightest, not being charged with any Secretary of State and Supreme President of the Senate, while Bryce is now the former office and has had two of the latter since 1860. Kennebec is generously used, as she is charged with three Secretaries of State, whereas she has had none of the balance of the tables are accurate as the part relating to Somerset it will do no harm much service."

As we expected the Commercial fails to answer our question and alleges as a reason that Bryce's views on the tariff are pretty well understood by its readers and that it will that is necessary." Whatever views the editor of that paper may be capable of formulating are generally understood to be in favor of free trade, a fact that we have no intention of disputing, but that has nothing to do with the question. What we desire to know is simply this: If "revenue reform," "tariff for revenue only" or in plain English, free trade is what the people of this country need to advance their prosperity, why did not the Democratic party openly advocate such a policy instead of deceiving the voters in the recent campaign, by attempting to force the tariff issue out of sight? Now we trust the Commercial will cease dodging and answer a fair question.

The joint commission in charge of the Washington Monument have submitted a report showing the progress during the past year. The weight of the Monument is 81,120 tons, and it has cost $1,187,710, of which Congress appropriated $887,710. Two methods of treating the terrace at the foot of the shaft have been suggested, the being to erect a wall of beautiful marble around it to be surmounted with a marble balustrade, the other method is to fill earth about the present terrace and to extend this filling so far from the monument as to fade the slopes of the embankment gradually into the surrounding surface, and this mound is then to be planted with trees and shrubs. If the marble wall is decided upon an appropriation of $612,306 is asked to complete the entire work; if the second proposition is accepted, but $106,500 is desired. The joint commission favor the latter method.

The Baltimore American is amused to read in the Independent, newspapers serious articles on the alleged civil service reform enthusiasm displayed in that city, on the occasion of a speech by the Democratic champion of civil service reform, Mr. Pendleton. The American says that the audience greeted the Ohio statesman with only ripples of applause, but that, when Colonel Fellows declared his belief that "the government is safest in the hands of its friends," the enthusiasm was simply tumultuous, and the applause echoed and re-echoed through the hall, and resounded like one continuous thunder-clap of acquiescence." Fellows, it we mistake not, says the Providence Journal, although hailing from New-York since the war, is an ex-confederate colonel, from Arkansas, and he knew how best to reach the heart-strings and arouse the sympathies of the Southern Democracy. "The government in the hands of its friends," in his interpretation, means the government in the hands of the solid South and its Northern allies.

More Light on the Florida Election.

[Boston Journal.]

The Florida Times-Union of Jacksonville, pressed great indignation at the Journal's comments upon the chicanery and frauds committed in that State at the recent election, and with considerable evidence of injured innocence called upon us to give the evidence upon which our charges were based. We have twice accommodated the Times-Union, with a detailed statement of specific frauds, information concerning which had reached us from witnesses who were in the spot; but, although that estimable journal had promised to republish such evidence as we might present, it has either failed so to do, or the issue containing the reprinted matter has failed to reach us.

It seems that the hyperbolic indignation of the Times-Union upon the perfect fairness of the Florida election, has attracted notice in that State, and that at least one Florida paper has had the courage to reply. The Key of the Gulf, published at Key West, emphatically asserts that the Times-Union has satisfied with the acceptance of the result on the part of the Republicans, but that it cracks such "smart" and "clever" jokes at any one who states what he knows about the Democratic methods by which the result was brought about. It calls upon the leading Democrats of the State so far from agreeing with the Times-Union that it is a little proud of the fact that, with a majority they could overcome the enormous majority. It quotes from the campaign speeches of the Governor and other Democratic leaders, to show that the Democratic candidates would have the offices, no matter what was done. Of the methods pursued the Key of the Gulf says:

"Certain precincts and counties were selected by which to do the work—and it was done. If the Times-Union or any one else wishes information let them inspect the reports to the Chief Supervisor and District Attorney at Jacksonville. There they will find a report of Democratic inspectors turning away regularly voters by the hundreds from the polls, thus giving what no one but a court and jury have a right to command, at distinguishing them. With no present law governing Republicans the privilege of voting, telling the tally were ——— fools, to open out their ballot boxes in Jackson and Gadsden counties, and if the result does not suffice for proof, then ask those who were present in the Bay District, the sole certainty of Republican majorities being arrested and trampled by force the night before election, and Democrats taking the place in a machine, educating the ballots with out looking on, falling off what number they pleased, etc. Who knows a man who was present at the precinct in Jackson county and actually counted every vote, and when the votes were counted 135 more ballots were found in the box than there were votes cast, but the extra names were found on the list of voters proper."

As to the use made of these ballots the Key of the Gulf says:

"There was no kuklusing. It was not necessary. When it was necessary to kill off white Republican leaders years ago it was done. Now all that is necessary to do is to swindle. No violence is called for. We have in our possession Democratic ballots printed in Middle Florida on thin paper, 8½ by 5 inches. In the upper margin of the ballot are the words "Vote on the ends." They was the plan resorted to in order to prevent the detecting a dozen and unfolding them in one. The large or small ballots were found in the Jackson county precincts where Democrats were in charge of the boxes. The ballots were found in the boxes."

The Commercial copies from the Boston Record a long letter from a Portland correspondent relative to political matters in this State, in which the writer, among many other foolish statements, takes occasion to remark that when the State was redistricted "it was thought necessary to carve out the Fourth District so as to disregard other considerations in order to make Congressman Boutelle's calling and election sure." Probably this statesmanlike correspondent or his inferior, the editor of the Commercial, will be kind enough to suggest just how this District could have been apportioned so as to have defeated Mr. Boutelle. As to the "carving out" process an examination of the returns of the September election will convince any man of ordinary intelligence that it would have been impossible to make a fairer apportionment.

The tramp of the hungry and thirsty is set to some disordered tunes. The Democratic press teems with epithets like "Augustus Belmont's clerk Tommy," "Cool Oil Bill," "Swivel Service George," "Vera-lean Johnny," and "Hessian Schurz." If this sort of thing keeps up, Governor Cleveland will want to take to the woods again long before his cabinet is completed.

Special Notices.

Important Notice to Water Takers.

On last Friday and Saturday nights the pumps at the Water Works pumped 850,000 and 900,000 gallons of water, about one third the amount capacity of the engine, and more than twice as much as it ever did in the night time, too, when but very little water for actual use is required.

Had a fire broken out on those cold, windy nights, not more than four streams of water could have been available to the fire department, and a terrible conflagration would have seen inevitable.

The 450,000 gallons in excess of the average is a waste, caused by open faucets, the guard against freezing, which is in violation of the ordinance of the City Council, entitled "Water Works," section 8, which subjects each person so violating to the penalty in section 9.

With such a waste making means of checking it in the night, when the hose-holders are in bed, the capacity of the works is equal to a draft able to be called for at any time by a fire.

Such waste should be discontinued. Every water taker should have a stop cock at or near the point where the pipe enters the cellar, and during cold weather shut the water off there, on retiring.

Water takers need fear no fine, over thirty hours for violation of the ordinance referred to and no one must suffer the penalty if the abuses here corrected.

We are aware that it is much less trouble to the water taker to open his faucets and let the water run all night (for) to shut off in the cellar, but the inconvenience thus caused by the duty to each other and to the city, urgently to comply with so rare an exception. The public good no less than the public safety demand that the evil complained above referred to should be strictly corrected.

The Water Board earnestly urge upon every water taker the importance of these suggestions.

FOUND GUILTY

OF MURDER IN THE SECOND DEGREE.

End of the Baker Murder Trial

AUGUSTA, Dec. 20. Counsel for defense in the Baker murder case rested in his preliminary stress yesterday, admitted the killing of Hawkins the prisoner, and did not ask a verdict for manslaughter in murder in the second degree. He contended that the prisoner was suffering under an attack of mental weakness caused by the shock he had received by epilepsy. He attempted to show that the prisoner had been suffering from this disease for some time previous to the killing, for about two weeks last April. The prisoner had left school and the plays of his Texas days, when he was in the State prison, and during his trial. He defended the prisoner. Hobart M. Heath, counsel for the State in the Baker murder case, began his argument. He held that the act of the prisoner at the time of the killing was delibery and not under the influence of the mental weakness. The further defense of insanity was put in, but was not pressed. The defense of temporary insanity was not made out. Attorney General Cornish opened for the prosecution. He scouted the idea of insanity, found and argued that the killing was done to commit the crime of rape, and was guilty of murder in the second degree. The Judges charged at three quarters of an hour, when the jury retired at three minutes to six. At nine with a verdict of guilty in the second degree. The trial will commence in Portland next week.

Forty Eighth Congress—Second Session

Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 20. Among the bills introduced was one by Mr. Allison granting a pension to the widow of the late Commander Gregory of the navy. A resolution offered by Mr. Morrill was agreed to, calling upon the Secretary of War for an estimate of the cost of the proposed improvement of the harbor of Wilmington, N. C., by the removal of Orton Point, and to the depth of twenty-five feet at mean low water.

At the conclusion of the morning business Mr. Vest called up his resolution declaring the adjournment of the Senate to be a violation of the provisions of the Constitution. Mr. Morgan moved that the matter be referred to the Judiciary Committee. This was seconded by Mr. Cockrell, of Missouri, who said he had thought Mr. Conger's expression was the result of a momentary impulse. He could not think that the position of the House conferees had been stated fairly in the Senate yesterday and therefore he would express the unanimous voice of these conferees as to what they had maintained.

It was well known that the navy department has been administered during the past six months and its temporary appropriation. The continuance of the provisions of this proper bill was owing to the Senate. The Senate conferees desired that the bill which should be made the basis of conference should be the bill that was passed at the last session by the House and amended by the Senate, but which was laid aside and never became law. That bill was based on an estimate of appropriation amounting to $5,000,000 and would build into the navy department subjects not legislated upon at all.

Mr. Keifer, of Ohio, was sorry that Mr. Randall had not spoken upon the merits of the matters in controversy. If the country was to have a navy the work of constructing it should begin now.

Mr. Randall replied that so far as the present cruisers were concerned, Congress had already given every dollar required for completing, furnishing, arming and putting them afloat.

Mr. Long, of Massachusetts, one of the conferees, while admitting the propriety of building up the navy, sustained the action of the managers on the part of the House. This question of new cruisers should be carefully considered, and that could be done when the appropriation bill for the next fiscal year was under discussion. The department had been administered for eleven months under a temporary bill and it would introduce no confusion into the workings of the department to change the system of appropriations for the remainder of the year.

Mr. Thomas, of Illinois, was opposed to the temporary bill. It was a slip-shod attempt to dodge around a stern duty.

The consideration of the Inter State Commerce bill begins next. Mr. Hendricks's amendment was rejected. Without further action the bill was laid aside.

Mr. Randall of Pennsylvania introduced a bill making temporary provision for the support of the navy for the month of January, 1885. He said the bill was introduced with the concurrence of such members of the Committee on Appropriations as he had been able to consult. It was in exact copy of the bill which had been passed at the last session, providing temporarily for the support of the navy for the past six months, with the modification necessitated by the difference in time covered by the bill. The bill passed without division.

On motion of Mr. Hopkins, of Pennsylvania, the Senate joint resolution was passed declaring Christmas and New Year's holidays. Adjourned till Wednesday.

NOTE.—Though there is no definite agreement that no business shall be transacted Wednesday, there is a tacit understanding to that effect. And it is also understood that consecutive adjournments shall be taken for three business days at a time until January.

News About the Capital

Wages and Cost of Living in Europe and America

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. Secretary Frelinghuysen has sent a voluminous communication to the House reviewing reports from United States Consuls in relation to the cost of labor in Europe. Each consular district is spoken of separately and briefly, wages, habits and customs, moral and physical conditions of the working classes, and the prevailing religion. The report concludes with a comparison of living, presenting the country, religion and the close, the whole concluding with a general recapitulation of all the figures, in which the labor elements of each of the countries are compared with each other and all these in turn, with the conditions which prevail in the United States. In his remarks the Secretary says the consular reports are principally directed to comparing in gas light in the great industrial centers, the highest wages and the English conditions have prevailed upon with American conditions in those of other countries.

He says it appears, comparing the cities of Europe with the cities in the United States, that bricklayers and masons in Chicago get paid very nearly three times the wages that plasterers nearly four times, carpenters twice, blacksmiths twice, bookbinders more than twice, house painters twice, shoemakers twice, compositors twice, tailors twice, printers twice and a half, tailors and dressmakers more than one and a half times, laborers, porters, etc., twice, ordinary laborers twice and a half, and in some cases more than three times. The cost of living in Europe is shown to be much less than in the United States. The average cost of living in London, Paris and Berlin is about 40 per cent less than in Chicago, and the average cost of living in Europe is more than 25 per cent less than in the United States. The average cost of living in Europe is shown to be much less than in the United States. In a report published in this department in 1878, it was shown that the price of food in the United States was generally lower than in Europe and that the working classes in the United States could purchase more and better food with a dollar than the working classes in Europe. The country in question is probably the one in which the working people of Europe have cheaply than the people of the United States, from which it is inferred that the purchasing power of their wages is greater than the purchasing power of their fellow workers here.

It appears from the reports that the American workman eats more and better food than a German workman, but the cost of this food is less in the United States than in Europe.

In general, clothing can be purchased by the people of Europe more than in the United States, especially clothing of the higher grades. As to relative quantity and quality, a comparison on the basis of an identical consumption does not exist. House rent in Europe is apparently lower than here, but the habitations are quality inferior to those in the United States.

Nomination by the President

The President today nominated Jacob Bunn to be Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Utah.

Failed to Agree

Mr. Randall and Senator Hale, chairman of the Conference Committees on the Naval Appropriation bill had a long conference this afternoon, but failed to reach an agreement.

The Importation of Rags

A telegram was received by Secretary McCulloch this afternoon from John Taylor and others of New York, asking what is the new order in regard to the importation of rags will be issued and saying it is impossible to do any business in the line till the point is settled and urging immediate action. The Secretary telegraphed in reply that the order will be issued Monday.

A committee representing the paper makers made a formal request that the proposed circular to provide for the different ports of entry be made to apply to rags shipped after the date of the issue of the circular, and that it may not apply to rags already shipped and on the way to this country. It is probable that this will be done and the order will be complied with.

Postmasters Confirmed

The Senate today confirmed the following postmasters: H. H. Blaisdell, Lake Village, N. H., and James H. Jones, Ashland, N. H.

The Nicaragua Expedition

The Senate in executive session considered Mr. Vest's resolution declaring the Nicaragua surveying expedition illegal and directing the Secretary of the Navy not to enforce his orders in the subject. The discussion was taken up chiefly in long speeches on the merits of the treaty and the benefits expected from building the canal. The Edds railroad project was incidentally discussed. Senator Morgan, who is friendly to the canal, made the leading speech in favor of the treaty, and Mr. Vest led in opposition. During the debate Mr. Edmunds took occasion to say that he strongly favored the ultimate end of the treaty, regardless of what foreign powers might say or do. Mr. Vest's resolution, which was to gotten in the debate, remained unacted on.

Warren, the Druggist, and he announces that he has laid in no purchase of goods expected for the holiday trade, and therefore his employees are able to give their undivided care and time to the preparation of prescriptions which they give at cost, regardless of the year. Now this is a fine opportunity for the young people to get a fine and choice collection of fancy and toilet articles, and by the holidays first class of candy, nuts, and purchasers would do well to look in on Mr. Warren at the corner of Central and Hammond street.

LOCAL MATTERS.

FATAL ACCIDENT. William Pomeroy, of Stetson, met with an accident, recently, which resulted in his death three days afterwards. He was in the woods cutting wood, and felled a tree across another and, in cutting down the tree which held it the butt swung around, striking him and producing a compound fracture of the leg. Mr. Pomeroy had been troubled with a kidney disease for years, and lying on the snow for about two hours, before help arrived, produced such a shock to the system, in connection with the broken leg, that he did not recover from the effects. He leaves a wife and four children.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES. Our correspondent writes: The mercury at Winn Saturday at six and eight o'clock in the morning was that five degrees below zero. On the Lee road it was twenty-seven degrees below and at four o'clock in the morning it was thirty degrees below. The Penobscot river here was all frozen over last night except a narrow channel. On Winn village and the surface is covered with thin ice and a snow storm has fallen on it. Some snow for sleighing is greatly desired here, as the rain at the end of the last snow storm left off what had already fallen. The Deputy Sheriff appointment here is still left undecided.

A NEW INDUSTRY. Mr. Wm. H. Abbott, of Dexter, has recently established a new industry, which is already successful and evidently destined to grow to a portion. This is the freezing of fish and game immediately after taken and thus preserving them fresh for a place. Mr. Abbott began to freeze salmon in 1883 at Mariaqueette, C. B., and last season he has, this year, erected a cold storage warehouse and dexter to be used as a depot and distributing point for job lots of goods. The building is of wood 30x40 feet and two stories high. The past week a car load of 114 tons of salmon from Cobscook was taken, 200 pounds was placed in the refrigerators.

POLO TOURNAMENT. A championship polo tournament open to all Maine clubs will take place in Bangor commencing Tuesday, Dec. 30th, in the evening and continuing every afternoon and evening until all the clubs entered shall play once with each other and the tournament will be completed in three games from that there will be decided the winner. The prizes are similar to the league last half season, only that instead of a series of games but one will be played with all the prizes will be as follows: 40 per cent of the receipts of the week will be set one side for the two winning teams, 25 per cent of which goes to the team, and 15 per cent to second. The prizes will be issued to each of the main, and in furnishing officials to look after the interests of the contest. Invitations are extended to Maine clubs to participate and all stories will be left unfinished to make the affair a success.

THE WEATHER. Saturday morning people had begun to believe that this was really the winter. But few people ventured on the streets, and those were clad very warmly. Monday morning in this city and in the surrounding towns the mercury fell to twenty four degrees below zero and there was hardly a place in the open air where it did not fall fifteen degrees below. At Bangor the stream was thirty below. The bow windows of the stores in this city were covered with a thick coating of frost and remained so all day. The mercury rose to zero during the day but fell again to night. The water pipes in many parts of the city were frozen and burst with the various plumbing firms about the city had many orders during the day. One firm had fifty orders before ten o'clock in the forenoon. During Saturday night the temperature grew warmer and yesterday morning and during the day about three inches of snow fell. Last night it filled a little and then rained. Then it froze during the past two days we have had a sample of all kinds of weather except snow and rain.

T. B. Hunter of Skillings was elected a member of the Executive Committee, and J. W. Lang was elected in place of Ivory Lord, deceased.

Appropriate resolutions were adopted in regard to the several members who have died within the past year, followed by remarks and expressive memorial services.

While all were seated at the tables in the dining-hall of the Hotel Exchange, Fred M. Hill, proprietor, the headquarters of over one hundred of the delegates, including the most of the officers, on the evening of adjournment, the following preamble and resolutions were offered by one of the members:

Whereas, We, members of the Maine State Grange and Patrons of Husbandry at the Hotel Exchange, have been cared for in the most kindly and efficient manner during our session, receiving every attention, not only from the proprietor and his accomplished wife, but from every employee about the house, therefore,

Resolved, That we extend to the proprietor and the employees of said house our sincere and heartfelt thanks, hoping that we may ever be remembered in their good wishes as they will certainly be in ours. And be it further

Resolved, That we can recommend the Hotel Exchange to all societies and the travelling public as a public house where they will receive the best attention and fare.

Resolved, That the secretary be requested to present a copy of these resolutions to the local papers and all papers here represented for publication.

We most heartily endorse the resolutions, and it is proper in this connection to state that the Spell House and every other hotel in Houlton, were filled with delegates to their utmost capacity, and their treatment in every instance received the warmest commendation.

The doors of many of the private houses were also found with their "visiting-lines" on the marble, and whispered why delegates were off duty they always found doors at their doors in waiting, ready to take them to all the places of interest in town or to the many fine farms in the vicinity. The sleighing being excellent, such trips behind the gaited horses were exciting and highly enjoyed. C. H. Gillman, Esq., one day appeared at the door of the Exchange with a splendid team of "four-in-hand" and invited all who would like a short ride to jump in, and his carriage was soon filled. On returning they had learned that "a short ride," in Aroostook means a circuit of twenty miles, which was accomplished in this instance in less than two hours. The day being warm the ride was highly enjoyed.

The Patrons of Husbandry will long remember their kind and hospitable treatment by the citizens of Houlton, and those who had never visited the place before are longing for an opportunity of visiting it again during summer, as it was easy to imagine what a delightful place it must be when its long and beautiful avenues lined with trees, on either side are clothed in their summer garbs.

Houlton is an unusually busy and thrifty town, it being the shire town of Aroostook county and the centre of trade. It is seldom that so many handsome and costly dwellings are seen in a village of its size, its population being about 1,600. Owing to its peculiar location their traders keep almost every article that can be used in the household or required in any branch of business. It has three saw and starch factories, a woolen mill, lumber and four mills, a tannery, iron foundry and machine shop, sash and blind manufactory, bookbindery, and two newspapers, The Aroostook Pioneer and Aroostook Times. The Pioneer, Mr. S. Gibson & Son, publishers, was moved from Presque Isle to Houlton in 1877. The Times was established in 1880 by Theodore Gore, Esq. These papers were both established by their present proprietors, and have become self-sustaining by the untiring industry, unremitting zeal and talents of their owners, and from present appearances we should judge the people appreciate their noble efforts to build up and bring into notice the grand opportunities Aroostook is offering to business men, and at the same time calling the attention of young men about to commence farming to its rich and deep soil which is capable of yielding abundantly every kind of farm crops. The best evidence that their services are appreciated is the fact that they are the owners of the handsome and convenient buildings in which their papers are published, beside other valuable property, which is somewhat unusual, as we know from experience, and we are pleased to learn that they never were receiving more substantial and cheering words of encouragement and appreciation than at the present time.

We with others had an urgent invitation to visit Houlton Academy, but lack of time prevented. We shall take it in next time. The many who have graduated and thus achieved distinction in their various callings are the strongest evidence of its usefulness and worth.

There seems to be a strong feeling of unrest among the people in regard to their railroad facilities, and it is very evident they do not mean to be obliged to go so far and yet be so near. Bangor is great while longer, yet they do not find fault with their treatment by the roads which afford them their present facilities. The lands in every direction are being improved and multiplied, new business enterprises of all kinds are thus constantly being demanded. Those who cannot conceive how such wonderful forces can be raised in so short a season, should visit the county and notice the effect Aroostook's healthy and invigorating atmosphere has upon its citizens—not an hour or minute is lost in their busy sections; in the words of brother Gilbert, "the fields are left half plowed, the plows are frozen in the furrows, but all are finished up and completed, as though there had been another week on hand and quite time to perform it all. And yet they get land honestly paid for their industry in abundant crops and large and thrifty stock. They were not slow in engaging our fair exhibition two years ago, that tipped the scales at ten and twelve hundred lbs. and succeeded in proportion.

The business of the annual session of the Maine State Grange being completed, the meeting was adjourned at sixty. Thursday, when the most of the Western members took the evening train for home with hearty cheers for the hospitable and generous hearted people of Aroostook county.
